1ST ANNUAL BCU

COMMUNITY DAY

NATURAL RESOURCES—IS MY TREE SAFE?

Introduction:

Trees in our cities and towns consist of the remnants of the area's native forest and planted trees, palms, and shrubs. Urban trees provide shade and beauty in the yards of private homes, parks, and rights-of-way. Additionally, the urban forest as a whole provides a wealth of benefits to neighborhoods and residents through the reduction of energy consumption for home heating and cooling, the removal of pollutants from the air and water, reduction in storm water flows, increased valuation of private property, increased worker productivity, and a reduction in stress and violent crime, as well as providing recreational opportunities and aesthetic diversity.

While trees make our cities more livable, stresses from the urban environment such as air pollution, damage by vehicles, increased impervious surface, soil compaction, and improper maintenance often reduce the diversity and magnitude of these benefits. It is a landowner's responsibility to ensure that the trees on their property are safe.

COMMON DEFECTS:

Defects are injuries, abnormal growth patterns, decay, or other conditions that reduce a tree's structural strength. Taking time to look at your tree's crown, main structural branches, trunk, and roots can reveal a great deal about the current health and structural integrity of a tree. If you find any of the following recognizable defects in a tree around your home you should consider having the tree examined by a qualified arborist.

DEFECTS: ROOT PROBLEMS, DEAD BRANCHES, BROKEN/HANGING BRANCHES, BRANCH ATTACHMENT/CODOMINANT STEMS, DECAY, CAVITIES, & LEANS

TIME TO HIRE AN ARBORIST:

One of the most difficult aspects of tree risk assessment is rating the likelihood of failure. There are no definitive rules or benchmarks that clearly separate sound and unsound trees. Similarly, there are no fix-all corrective measures that can be applied to all possible defects and situations. Each defect may require a different action based on the extent of the condition, its location, the tree species, etc. Arborists with experience in tree risk assessment can factor in species-related failure profiles, site factors of concern, and signs and symptoms of tree stress or structural weakness when conducting a tree risk assessment.

Certified arborists are trained individuals who understand a base-level knowledge of trees and their care. With their combined work experience and demonstrated competencies, certified arborists can help you determine if something is not "normal" or is cause for concern for a given tree. As part of an inspection, a certified arborist can offer recommendations for corrective actions to reduce risk and improve tree conditions. Depending on the type and extent of the defect present, strategies for reducing risk could be as simple as moving a potential target (bench) or removal of the defective part. In some instances, tree removal may be the only way to effectively mitigate tree risk.

For City of Tampa residents: To have a City of Tampa Arborist inspect and evaluate trees for defects on your properties, Please apply for a tree consultation (TRC- $50.00 Application costs) at ACA.TAMPAGOV.NET or please call 813-274-3100 Option 4

10 Tips for Green Living

- 1. Ditch the plastic. Carry a reusable bag with you for groceries, shopping and take-out food.
- 2. Tuck in your computer at night. Turn off your screen saver and cut even more energy that your computer uses by putting it in sleep mode when it isn't in use.
- 3. Clean with green. Clean your home with non-toxic and natural cleaning products. Just about anything can be cleaned with white vinegar, baking soda and a few drops of lemon.
- 4. Be good to your vehicle, and it will be good to you. Inflate your tires once a month or as necessary. Replace the air filter and tune up your engine regularly. A new air filter can get you 10 percent more miles per gallon, and a tune-up can boost miles per gallon from 4 percent to 40 percent.
- 5. Think globally, buy locally. Buy locally grown food that's in season. Food that hasn't traveled thousands of miles to your plate is fresher and tastier, and buying local food drastically cuts down on global-warming pollution.
- 6. Coffee — it's not just for drinking anymore. The next time you brew a cup of fresh coffee at home, don't toss the used coffee grounds into the trash. First, spoon some warm grounds into your hands and mix it with your favorite hand soap, then scrub away. The grounds will exfoliate dead skin and the soap will render your hands squeaky clean. Scatter remaining grounds around your evergreen shrubs and trees — it's an energizing fertilizer for them.
- 7. Start composting today. A compost pile or composter turns your food and lawn wastes into rich mulch. It's a great way to reduce your trash production, and if you start today, you'll have rich compost in time for spring planting.
- 8. Don't be a drip. Fix leaky faucets. A faucet that drips once each second can waste over 8 gallons of water per day and more than 3,000 gallons per year.
- 9. Turn dollars into sense. Save on energy consumption and your electric bill by turning down your thermometer and throwing on your favorite fuzzy pajamas.
- 10. Ease up on the pedal. Slowing down from 75 to 65 miles per hour will drop your highway gas consumption by about 15 percent.
